nd his friends in the long fight between the pool-room men and the racetrack association in the decision of the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court to-day, reversing the decision of Justice Murray, of the Tenth District Court, dismissing the suit of Raymond P. Moulton against William J. Torpie, the bookmaker, on the Morris Park race track to recover money he lost on

De Lancey Nicoll, in behalf of Torpic, contended that as Moulton went to the track for the express purpose of betting nd losing and then suing for the money ost he was a party to the offense for which the code provides a forfeiture and could not recover.

Justice Murray indorsed this view and ismissed the complaint. Presiding Justice Friedman and Jus-MacLean delivered opinions, in which Justice Gildersleeve concurred, eversing this and ordering a new trial.

This was one of many cases instigated y Peter De Lacy, through Benjamin Steinhardt, under various phases of the ly guarded. law making it a criminal offense to make Writer of America Succumbed a book in a pool-room, and only a mater for a civil suit to recover the money to Pneumonia After an Illness if the book is made on a race track.

In characteristic language Justice MacLean says the case against the Westchester Racing Association was ustifiably dismissed, but that Justice Murray might have justly directed a erdict against Bookmaker Torpie, it was soon proved and, after a little skirmishing, conceded that Moulton bet with Torple on Squid, paid his money and lost the bet. In another case the decision was that if the bet was made as the agent of Peter De Lacy, then De Lacy should have brought the action. That question was the sole excus n the case for submitting it to the jury.

Mr. William Whittaker, of 111 South Arsenal Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., crawled around with a cane in each hand, but Dr. Greene's Nervura cured him. Mr. Whittaker says:

"I was a victim of nervousness, pains in my back and sides, and extreme mervousness. The pains from my back would begin at my hips and extend to my forehead. For six or seven weeks I could not walk without the aid of a cane in each hand. .

"I could not obtain any relief from my doctor or any medicine. I was told by a friend to try a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura, and if I found no relief from it he would give my money back. I at once began taking it, and have never regretted the day, although I had taken three bottles before I saw any change in my condition. Then I bought one more, and it made such a vast change in my condition, I bought another, and so on.
